

(91.8 x 69.5 x 3.5 cm)

Peace through Chemistry: Art in Chemistry

Date

1970

Primary Maker

Roy Lichtenstein

Medium

screen print

Description

Art in Chemistry is a variation of one half of a diptych from 1970 titled Peace Through Chemistry. Lichtenstein, who called this painting a "pseudo-mural," likened it to the social-political WPA murals from the 1930s. He began multi-panel, muralesque compositions of this type in 1966, intending them as a statement about heroic composition.

Dimensions

Sight: 23 7/8 x 14 1/4 in. (60.6 x 36.2 cm) Sheet: 30 x 20 1/4 in. (76.2 x 51.4 cm) Framed: 36 1/8 x 27 3/8 x 1 3/8 in.